

XMR-Symposium

Privacy Policy

1. Controller

Controller within the meaning of Art. 4 No. 7 General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is Sensitec GmbH, Schanzenfeldstr. 2, 35578 Wetzlar, Germany (“we”). For more information about us, please refer to our imprint. You may contract our data protection officer at datenschutzbeauftragter@sensitec.com.

2. General

The following policy gives you an overview of which kind of personal data we process for which purpose and on which legal basis when you visit our website at <http://www.xmr-symposium.com/>, register for and participate in an XMR-Symposium.

3. Data processing on our website

During the mere informative use of our website, we automatically collect and store information in the server log files that your browser transmits to us.

- IP address (anonymised)
- Date and time of the request
- Content of the request/retrieved data
- Access status/http status code
- The amount of data transferred in each case
- Website from which the request comes
- Browser type/User agent

This data is technically necessary for us to display this website to you and to ensure stability and security. The temporary storage of the IP address by the system is necessary to enable provision of the website to your computer. For this purpose, your IP address has to be stored for the duration of the session.

The storage in the server log files ensures the functionality of the website. In addition, we use the data to optimise the website and to ensure the security of our information technology systems.

The legal basis for the collection and temporary storage of data is Art. 6 (1) 1 lit. f GDPR. Our legitimate interest according to Art. 6 (1) 1 lit. f GDPR lies in the above-mentioned purposes.

An analysis of the data for marketing purposes does not take place in this context. We will not assign this data to specific persons and this data will not be merged with other data sources.

This data is stored on servers in Germany. They are deleted as soon as they are no longer necessary in relation to the purposes for which they were collected. In the case of the collection of data for the provision of the website, this is the case when the respective session has ended. Insofar as data is stored in server log files, the data will be deleted after 7 days at the latest.

The collection of data for the provision of the website and the storage of the data in server log files is absolutely necessary for the operation and provision of the website. Consequently, the user may not object the processing of data in this case.

4. Registration for the XMR-Symposium and contact

4.1 Description and scope of data processing

In order to participate at the XMR-Symposium it is necessary to register on our website by providing personal information. The data is entered into an input mask, transmitted to us and stored. A transfer of data to third parties does not take place. The following data is collected during the registration process:

- Title
- First name
- Last name
- E-mail
- Student status
- Company, Institution
- Concerning the invoice:
- Department
- First name
- Last name
- Street
- ZIP code, City
- Country
- E-mail for billing

At the time of registration, the above listed data will be transferred via e-mail to Sensitec GmbH for processing the registration. These data are not stored on the server of the website.

4.2. Legal basis for data processing

The processing of the personal data from the input mask serves us solely to process the registration. Registration is required for your participation at the XMR-Symposium, including billing, printing of name badges and contacting by e-mail.

The legal basis for data processing in the course of registration is Art. 6 lit. b GDPR for the fulfilment of a contract or pre-contractual measures.

The other personal data processed during the sending process serve to prevent misuse of the contact form and to ensure the security of our information technology systems. The legal basis for the processing of the data transmitted in the course of the registration is Art. 6 (1) 1 lit. f GDPR.

The legal basis for the processing of the data transmitted when contacting us via e-mail is Art. 6 (1) 1 lit. f GDPR. This data is solely used to process your request. If the e-mail contact is aimed at concluding a contract, the legal basis for the processing is Art. 6 (1) lit. b GDPR.

4.3. Duration of storage

The data will be deleted as soon as it is no longer required to achieve the purpose for which it was collected.

For the personal data collected and sent by e-mail to Sensitec GmbH, this is the case when the respective conversation with the user has ended. The conversation has ended when the circumstances indicate that the matter in question has been concluded.

4.4. Cancellation and Objection

As a participant, you have the option of cancelling your registration at any time. You can change the data stored about you at any time.

As a participant, you have the right to object to the processing of your personal data at any time by contacting us. In such a case, the status as a participant cannot continue.

You can send your objection to the following address:

xmr-symposium@sensitec.com

If you exercise your right to object, all your personal data stored will be deleted unless we are required by applicable law to retain it.

5. Pictures during an XMR-Symposium event

During the XMR-Symposium we will take overview pictures of the Symposium and group pictures. Selected pictures will afterwards be published on the Symposium's website (www.xmr-symposium.com), in our newsletter SensorKosmos and/or on social media to document and promote the symposium.

We will only publish pictures in which you are not identifiable as an individual or pictures where you have consented in taking the picture, either explicitly, e.g. via written consent or expressly implied, e.g. by standing and smiling for a group picture.

The legal basis for taking and publishing overview pictures of the Symposium and group pictures is our legitimate interest pursuant to Art. 6 (1) s. 1 lit. f GDPR to document and promote the XMR-Symposium or your consent pursuant to Art. 6 (1) s. 1. lit. a GDPR depending on the particular picture.

You have the right to object the processing or revoke your consent in the use of your picture(s) at any time. In this case, the picture(s) will be deleted from our websites and our systems as soon as possible in accordance with data protection regulations. In the case of group pictures, your image may be rendered unrecognisable, e.g. by pixelation.

6. Data deletion and storage duration

The data will be processed and stored as long as this is necessary in relation to the purpose for which they were collected. Subsequently, they are then deleted when legally permissible.

7. Recipients outside the EU

We will not share your information with recipients located outside the European Union or the European Economic Area.

8. Your rights

If your personal data is processed by us, you have the following rights against us as the controller:

8.1 Right to information

Since we only collect data from you and about you to the extent described above, we only have information about you from the use of our services. Rights to information in this regard pursuant to Art. 15 GDPR can be exercised in writing or by e-mail to us.

8.2 Right to withdraw consent

Insofar as the processing of your data is based on your consent, you have the right to revoke this at any time in accordance with Art. 7 (3) GDPR. The revocation does not affect the lawfulness of the processing carried out up to that point. You can withdraw your consent in writing or by e-mail.

8.3 Right to correction

If data concerning your person is incorrect, you may request their correction (Art. 16 GDPR).

8.4 Right to restriction of processing

Under the conditions of Art. 18 GDPR, you have the right to request a restriction of the processing of the data concerning you.

8.5 Right to deletion

Under the conditions set out in Art. 17 GDPR, you have the right to request deletion of the personal data concerning you. This is the case, for example, if you withdraw your consent or if the data is no longer required for the purposes for which it was collected.

8.6 Right to data portability

Under the conditions set out in Art. 20 GDPR, you have the right to receive your personal data that you provide to us in a structured, common and machine-readable format and to have this data transferred to another controller without hindrance by us.

8.7 Right of objection

You have the right at any time, for reasons that arise out of your particular situation, to object to the processing of your personal data that is taking place pursuant to Art. 6 (1) (e) or (f) GDPR; this also applies to profiling based on these provisions.

We will no longer process your personal data unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for processing that outweigh your interests, rights and freedoms, or the processing is for the purpose of enforcing, exercising or defending legal claims.

If your personal data is processed for direct marketing purposes, you have the right to object at any time to the processing of your personal data for the purpose of such advertising; this also applies to profiling insofar as it is associated with such direct mail.

If you object to processing for direct marketing purposes, your personal data will no longer be processed for these purposes.

8.8 Right to complain

If you are of the opinion that the processing of data relating to you infringes data protection regulations, in addition to the option of contacting us, you also have the option of lodging a complaint with the
